Hi K'Aun:

I never mention this around the other attorneys because I don't want to come across as a Spanish snob. But apparently I am a Spanish snob. The word for "union," as in "labor union," or "syndicate" in Spanish is spelled "Sindicato," with an "i" where in English we would have a "y" " And, in fact, the Sindicato de Nuevo Mexico spells it correctly, with an "i." ("Gang" is "pandilla.") (The indictments misspell it.)

I only mention this because Judge Browning is using the "y" in his opinions, and he might want to know.

My apologies for my snobbery.
